Here are a few excerpts from the book:

"The Castro was a place where anything was possible. It was a place where you could be yourself, and where you could find your tribe. It was a place where dreams could come true, and where legends were made."

"I've had the privilege of working with some of the most talented and creative people in the world. I've seen drag queens transform themselves into stunning works of art, singers belt out their hearts out, and comedians make audiences roar with laughter. It's been an incredible journey, and I'm grateful for every moment of it."

"The Castro has changed a lot over the years, but one thing that has remained the same is its spirit of community. It's a place where people from all walks of life can come together and celebrate their differences. It's a place where everyone is welcome, and where everyone can find a home."
