The autobiography of Giora Epstein, the top scoring Israel Air Force ace of aces, is a gripping account of his life and military career. From his early days as a young pilot to his heroic exploits during the Six-Day War and the Yom Kippur War, Epstein's story is one of courage, determination, and resilience.

A Young Pilot's Journey

Giora Epstein was born in Tel Aviv, Israel, in 1938. He joined the Israel Air Force in 1956, and quickly rose through the ranks. By the time the Six-Day War broke out in 1967, Epstein was a squadron commander with over 100 combat missions under his belt.

During the Six-Day War, Epstein shot down five enemy aircraft, making him an instant hero. He continued to fly combat missions throughout the war, and by the end of the conflict, he had become the top scoring ace in the Israel Air Force.

The Yom Kippur War

The Yom Kippur War broke out in 1973, and Epstein was once again called to action. He flew numerous combat missions during the war, and shot down several enemy aircraft. However, on October 14, 1973, Epstein's aircraft was shot down over the Sinai Peninsula. He was captured by Egyptian forces and held as a prisoner of war for nine months.

A Hero's Return

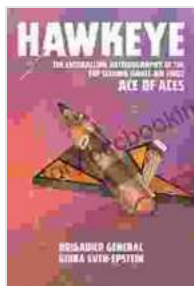

Epstein was released from captivity in 1974, and he returned to Israel a national hero. He continued to serve in the Israel Air Force until 1980, when he retired with the rank of brigadier general.

Since his retirement, Epstein has written several books about his experiences in the Israel Air Force. He has also lectured extensively on the importance of air power and the role of the Israel Air Force in the defense of Israel.
